Leather Types Names and descriptions.

- A) Aniline- Highest quality leather available. Also, known as "Naked" Leather, these hides take the dye process much like natural wood takes a stain. Different parts of the hide will take on a different look of the dye color.
- O) Oil Pull Up- Basically an Aniline leather with a wax or oil coating that when applied to the surface gives the leather a unique feel, appearance and response to wear.
- P) Protected- Leather coated with a protective color coating that shields leather from stains & signs of wear.
- N) Nubuck- Pure Aniline product abraded to create a suede-like nap with soft feel. Little or no protective coating; shows all natural marks and character. Varies in shade and texture, panel.
