Building Your Theater Rows

Home Cinema Incliner Series II & III

As you can see from the illustrations to the right, there are unlimited configurations and options to build your seating plans. We will always start from left to right, using a RLC (Reclining Left Chair) to begin the row and ending with a RRC (Reclining Right Chair) to close or end the row.

You have 8 arm options in all designs of the Series II and Series III inclining Theater Seating. Series I are all single reclining chair designs and do not have center arm options. You can order arms with no cup holders also. Only storage consoles are shown and priced with two cup holder option. Straight outside arms have only, no or one cup holder option. All seating will ship with the selected arm or center consoles attached to the right side facing chair, except the starting Left chair (RLC).

Some standard non-console arms will vary in dimension based on the style they were designed for. All storage consoles are identical and will work with any of the Series II or Series III seating. All seating in these two Series now embody our new 24" seat as standard across our line. Series I chairs will vary, check all dimension before building your rows.
